ABOUT CFMA

“No experience has enriched my life as much as being an involved member of CFMA, participating in leadership and learning experiences, and developing life-long friendships as well as mutually beneficial business relationships engendered by the shared CFMA experience.”

Danny Parrish, Dallas/Fort Worth Chapter

The Construction Financial Management Association (CFMA) is the only non-profit organization dedicated to serving the financial professional in the construction industry. Established in 1981, CFMA now has over 7,000 members in 84 chapters across the United States. CFMA is the communications leader and primary source of education and information about those aspects of financial management unique to the construction industry.

Our Mission

CFMA’s objective is to provide construction financial professionals with the resources necessary to meet the challenges of an ever-changing industry. We do this by:

- Uniting individuals having financial responsibilities in the construction industry;
- Providing a forum through which the Association’s members can meet to exchange ideas;
- Developing and coordinating education programs dedicated to the purpose of improving the professional standards of construction financial managers;
- Enhancing the role and promoting the image of the construction financial manager;
- Being a recognized authority on construction financial management.

CHAPTERS

“Not long ago, we had a proposed hotel project in the Houston area, where we were not familiar with the subcontractor market. Thanks to CFMA, we had an instant list of local subs to contact and to send bid packages. What an improvement over the hit or miss process we used before. Because the subs were members of CFMA, I had an instant comfort level that they were credible firms—plus I had a direct link from my office to the financial person of each particular sub. This is a real win-win situation!”

David James, Valley of the Sun Chapter

CFMA’s Chapter Connection – This is one of the most important benefits we offer CFMA members. Whether it’s around the corner, or across the country, you stay connected to the Association – and to your peers and other professionals – through our strong network of 84 chapters throughout the United States. So, if you have a question about doing business in another state, or about taking on a certain type of project, you have a ready pool of people you can call on for advice, support, and information. **Need to find a local chapter? Click here!**

Local Meetings – Local chapter meetings are a great place to learn new skills, earn CPE credits, socialize, and network with your peers. Through chapter activities, members expand their circle of professional contacts and broaden their professional horizons. And, as members tell us time after time, the people they meet at chapter meetings often turn into lifelong friends! In addition, opportunities abound for members who want to move their career to the next level. Chapter involvement can help you tap into new resources as you develop the leadership skills that can help you advance in your career.

Networking/Industry Contacts – CFMA is made up of people from all walks and every facet of construction financial management – people just like you, facing the same challenges and opportunities that you face everyday. There is no better way to build and expand your professional network than by active involvement in CFMA and your local chapter. When you belong to the CFMA family, you are never alone: You are part of a team of professionals who understand what you need, and speak the same language you do. It's a great feeling – and you can only find it at CFMA!

EDUCATION

“I paid for my trip expenses in just three months by simply renegotiating my company’s bank fee structure – something I learned at CFMA’s National Conference!”

James P. Camarre, Niagara Frontier Chapter

“Speaking as a new member, CFMA’s educational programs are great! I never realized how the accounting side coordinates with the construction side to put a contract together. Great experience!”

Michael Blanchard, Maine Chapter

Conference & Exhibition - CFMA's premier educational event takes place each spring and features three days of learning, networking, and social events – all designed to meet the needs of the construction financial professional. Features include:

- Morning & Afternoon Sessions
- CFMA's Five Schools of Learning
  - Accounting & Finance
  - Subcontracting
  - Leadership & Human Resources
  - Technology
  - Risk Management

For info on this year’s Conference & Exhibition, click here!

Joint Conferences – CFMA co-sponsors a number of conferences and seminars with other industry organizations, including the AICPA, A/E/C, AGC, IRMI, DBIA, and others. As a member of CFMA, you'll receive advance notification of these informative events, as well as enjoy discounts on your registration.

“The Basics of Construction Accounting Workshop” & “Beyond the Basics” – CFMA's own courses, designed in levels for "newcomers" to the construction industry as well as for construction industry financial personnel who need to expand their basic knowledge and for experienced construction financial professionals, too. No matter what your level of expertise, the "Basics" and "Beyond" will help you do your job better!

CPEadvantage – Coming Soon!!! A fast, easy way to earn the CPE credits you need to keep your professional standing up to date.

CPE (NASBA) – All of CFMA’s nationally sponsored educational programs, and some local chapter programs, are CPE-certified and meet NASBA requirements for continuing education credits. So, every time you attend, you’re gaining more than just knowledge – you’re earning CPE credits!

PUBLICATIONS

The article in CFMA Building Profits on how to use Excel Pivot Tables was most appreciated. It gave a clear explanation of 'how to' and 'why to. Including a downloadable example to experiment with was the perfect technique for getting me to jump in and use this new (to me) analysis tool. In just a few minutes, I was able to take it for a 'test drive' and – and see for myself that it's easy to use with loads of possibilities! This will make my job easier!

Thanks to you and to CFMA Building Profits for once again giving me substantial value from my CFMA membership.

Gordon Marshall, Chicago Chapter

CFMA Building Profits – As a member, you’ll receive CFMA’s award-winning magazine six times a year. Each issue focuses on a specific theme, and provides industry information, insights, theory, and techniques on everything from risk management to IT solutions. Feature articles spotlight both construction financial management and a broad range of business management concerns. And, the magazines’ regular columns keep you up-to-date with the latest in technology as well as IRS changes, FASB rulings, and other regulatory and taxation issues.

THE SOURCE Online - The fastest, easiest way to find other CFMA members and companies! Search by name, location, chapter, specialty, and more. Plus, once you’ve found the person you need, you can instantly send them an e-mail. This exclusive online membership database is available only to CFMA members, so you can be assured it’s safe, secure, and private.

rEsource – CFMA’s quarterly e-newsletter focuses on need-to-know topics that can help make your job easier and make you more productive. Articles are gleaned from a wide range of sources and distilled down so you get just the valuable “knowledge nuggets” – the news you can use, without all the cyber-clutter.

Financial Management and Accounting for the Construction Industry – We call it “The Book.” You’ll call it fantastic. Here are the answers to the highly specialized, construction-industry accounting problems you face every day. Written by industry professionals for industry professionals, The Book is the definitive reference source for construction financial management and accounting – and a must-have reference for every professional’s library. Updated regularly so you can be sure it contains the latest practices.

CFMA's Construction Industry Annual Financial Survey – The construction industry’s benchmarking tool of choice. This one-of-a-kind survey provides comprehensive, aggregate information on how the construction industry really operates. The survey contains financial performance data – including Best-in-Class Analyses – organized by type of construction, dollar volume, and geographic region. It includes financial ratios and composite balance sheets for all three categories in addition to nearly 200 graphs, charts, and tables for use as visual benchmarks.

CFMA's IT Survey for the Construction Industry - A comprehensive report on the industry's use of technology, including hardware, software applications, operating systems, and emerging technology trends. Use it to compare your company's IT systems and software with those of your peers.

ChapChats – This Web-based newsletter focuses on leadership skills and chapter news & events. A must for anyone who wants to be a better manager as well as for those CFMA members interested in chapter leadership.

SERVICES

Accounting & Reporting and Tax & Legislative News – CFMA keeps you abreast of developments in these important areas. Over the years, we have testified before Congress, submitted comments to the IRS and FASB on upcoming rules and regulations, and worked closely with industry coalitions on major industry accounting and taxation issues. Through our Accounting & Reporting and Tax & Legislative Affairs Committees, we continue to provide all CFMA members with timely and critical information and analyses on tax, accounting, and legal issues that affect the construction industry in CFMA Building Profits, through e-mails, and on CFMA's Web site.

CFMA Online - www.cfma.org, your virtual association, is at your fingertips 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Log on to get Association news, chapter updates, and other valuable information about our industry and the issues that affect how you do business. No matter where you live, or what time it is when you need to know, if you have access to the Internet, you have access to CFMA!

Leadership Skills – From CFMA at Spring Creek, our annual leadership retreat and workshop for incoming chapter leaders, to specialized and focused leadership sessions at our annual conference to feature articles in CFMA Building Profits, ChapChats and rEsource, CFMA provides the means and the methods for you to develop and sharpen your leadership skills. In addition, CFMA chapters offer a wide range of opportunities for hands-on leadership training.

Job & Resumé Banks – This section of CFMA's Web site makes it easy for prospective employees and potential employers to find each other. So, whether you want to post your resumé (a free service for CFMA members), or you need to find the right person to round out your management team, make this your first stop!

Member Discounts – Our members enjoy discounts on CFMA products and services, as well as on joint educational programs and seminars offered by AICPA, A/E/C, AGC, IRMI, DBIA, and other industry associations and organizations. Plus, with our ever-expanding array of affinity programs, members also receive discounts on car rentals, hotels, credit cards, and more!

Software User Database Forum – Ever wonder if a particular piece of software is right for your company? Well, wonder no more! CFMA's Construction Industry IT Survey results are used to compile a database of our members who are willing to talk to other members regarding their use of computer software. So, you can get an unbiased opinion from people who actually use the product! Email Erica O'Grady for more information.
